-Yesterday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, information was sent to the First Precinct Station-House that some of the sailors were acting in a mutinous and disorderly manner on board a vessel at Pier No. 16 East River, foot of Wall street. Lient. Snodgrass, who was in charge of the St-tion-House at the time, dispatched Officer Cairnes to quell the disturbance, and, if necessary, arrest the disorderlies. Upon arriving at the vessel, the captain made a complaint against John Hollis, alias "Sailor Jack," or "the one-eyed man," whom Officer Cairnes apprehended and took to the Station-House. The accused was locked up in one of the cells, and the same officer returned to the vessel for the purpose of arresting another person, against whom the Captain had also made complaint, but being unable to find the man, he returned to the Station-House. The Lieutenant directed the prisoner to be taken to the Lower Police Court, whereupon Officer Cairnes started off with him for the Tombs. They had not proceeded very far before the prisoner said he wanted to go to Burling slip to get some man, whose name he mentioned at the time, to go his bail. The officer told him that he could send a boy down, upon which the accused stopped some boy in the street and dispatched him with a message to his friend in Burling slip. They then started again for the Tombs, and had reached the corner of Fulton and Front streets, when Hollis suddenly turned upon the officer, and, by a powerful and well-directed blow, knocked him down. The officer sprang to his feet, and his prisoner ran away. The officer started in pursuit, and while running drew his revolver and fired two shots at the fugitive, neither o which, however, took effect. The prisoner started across the street toward Fulton Market, when the officer, who was still in pursuit, fired a third shot, which took effect in Hollis's right side, causing him to fall to the sidewalk. As he fell blood flowed profusely from his wound. Officer Cairnes at the time that he fired the fatal shot was about eight or ten feet from

Officer Perkins of the Second Precinct, being near the spot at the time, and hearing the report of a pistol, ran to the spot, and with the assistance of Cairnes, raised the wounded man from the walk and placed him on a cart for the purpose of removing him to the New-York Hospital. Officer Cairnes immediately gave bimself into the custody of officer Perkins, and was taken to the Second Precinct Station-House, and placed in charge of Capt. Weed. "Sailor Jack" was carried to the Hospital, but died before reaching that institution. His body was deposited in the Hospital Dead-House, to await the action of the Coroner.

The most intense excitement prevailed in the neighborhood where "Sailor Jack" was shot, and several terbulent spirits evinced a disposition to get up a lynching scene, and but for the prompt arrival of officer Perkins and other policemen, a serious disturbance would have occurred.

Ex-Assemblyman Gage informed our reporter that he was passing through Fulton street when he heard a pistol-shot. The ball whizzed past him, and upon his turning to discover the cause of the noise, a second shot was fired. At this time he saw a man running across Fulton street, pursued by a policeman, the lat ter having a revolver in his hand. As they turned the corner of Fulton Market and South street, and disappeared from his view, he heard a third shot fired, and upon reaching the spot he saw a man lying bleeding upon the walk.

Sailor Jack was a powerful fellow, of notoriously had character. His residence we were unable to ascertain. The blow or blows that Officer Cairnes received on the jaw caused a severe swelling in his face, and in ten or fifteen minutes after he was scarcely able to open his mouth. The officer has been in the Police Department two years, and enjoys the respect and esteem of his superior officers.

The vessel on which Sailor Jack was employed is named the St. Charles, and is commanded by Thomas Conway. The deceased, with several other riggers, had some difficulty with Capt. Conway, and beat him severely, and it was for this offense that Hollis was anested. Cairpes still remains in the custody of Capt. Weed of the Second Preciset. An inquest will probably be held upon the body of the deceased to-day.

The alarm on Tucaday night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, was caused by the discovery of a fire in the large brown-stone house corner of Fifth avenue and Fifteenth street, formerly owned by Mr. C. M. Parker, and recently sold by him to Mr. Benkhard of the firm of Benkhard & Hutton. The house had just been renovated and altered, and furnished at an expense, it is said, of $85,000. The fire originated from the farnace flue in the lower hallway, and thence extended through the ceiling and floor above. The tended through the ceiling and floor above. The

FIRES IN BROOKLYN.

Yesterday afternoon, about 3 o'cleck, a fire broke out in an upper story room of No. 46 Willoughby street, occupied by Mr. Francis Church. The fire caught, as supposed, from a defect in the chimney. The wood work and furniture in the room where the fire originated were greatly damaged. The flames also extended to other apartments. The loss amounts to $600, covered by insurance in the Mechanics' and other Companies.

other Companies.

About 10 o'clock the night previous, an attempt was made to burn down an occupied building at the corner of Oxford street and Park avenue. The flames were discovered in time to prevent much damage.

CITY ITEMS.

E. L. SNOW SOCIAL UNIONS .- A new Union No. 6 of this excellent Temperance organization was opened at Williamsburgh on Tuesday evening. Many hundred of the gentlemen and ladies of the Order were present from this city.

Mr. Meagher's closing narrative on Central America will be given this evening.

The Fair of the American Union will be held at No. 620 Broadway. The premises are now open for the reception of articles for exhibition.

Mr. William Saar, who has been pursuing thorough course of study in music during the last five years in Europe, returned a few weeks since, and will give a Piano-forte Soirée this evening at Dodworth's Academy.

Excise Commissioners,-Messrs, Haskett and Holmes met yesterday, and granted a storekeeper's license to Mr. U. B. Jackson, on payment of $30, after which they adjourned to this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Bull's Ifkan,-Yesterday proved even worse for the drovers than they articipated on Tuesday. The market was entirely overstocked with cattle of inferior quality, and prices are very low-eny six cents a pound net, some very mean ones probably a little lower, and some "no sale." There was also a fair supply of cattle suitable for market retailing beef, which sold for 71 a 8c. a pound, and a small supply of such as rank as first-class sold at 8, #9c. Some interesting particulars will be found in our cattle-market The present market receipts of all sorts of butchers' animals is larger than ever before.

SERENADE .- Judge Waterbury, the newly-elected District-Attorney, was honored with a serenade on Tuesday night by his friends in the Twentieth Ward. After the musical honors the Judge made a speech, and invited his friends to sup with him. The evening passed merrily away in toast and song. Among other complimentary toasts the health of John Clancy, the County Clerk elect, was enthusiastically drank. Subsequently, Dr. Childs, the Assemblyman, was honored

Twenty-nine hall from the New-England States. New-York State, including New-York City and Brooklyn, furnishes 46. At a recent meeting of the Synod of New-York and New-Jersey, a committee was appointed to divise means of unexpected success. About fifty scholarships, yielding funding scholarships. Their efforts have met with

$120 per annum, are already pledged. AMERICAN CHAPEL IN PARIS .- A public meeting, under the auspices of the American and Foreign Christian Association, will be held this evening, at 7; o'clock in the church corner of Fourth street and Lafayette place, in behalf of the American chapel in Paris, and of religious liberty, especially in Sweden. Addresses may be expected from D. Dudley Field and Daniel Lord, esqrs., and the Rev. Drs. J. P. Thompson and

Joel Parker.

THE APPROACHING EXECUTION .- The execution of James Rodgers, for the murder of Mr. John Swanston, will take place to-norrow, all intercessions on the part of the youth's friends with the Governor having thus far proved unavailing. Yesterday, several friends of the doomed lad visited Albany for the purpose of offer-ing further interessions, but the result of their errant has not yet transpired. Rodgers is occupied entirely in religious preparation for the event, and is very calm and tranquil. He holds communication with no one save his spiritual advisers-three Roman Catholic priests, and the Sisters of Mercy, being the only persons allowed to communicate with him. His parents and sister, who have been unremitting in their attention to him during his imprisonment, are now denied admission to the prison. Rodgers says that he is perfectly resigned to his fate, and does not desire a reprieve or commutation of sentence. On account of his extreme youth, great regret is felt at his fate, and many feel that a lesser punishment should have been awarded him. Rodgers says, and doubtless with much truth, that he was so drunk on the night of the murder that he did not know what he was about.

Allusion to his approaching death was made in a number of pulpits on Sunday last; and in some of the Episcopal churches, the following prayer from the order for the Visitation of Prisoners, and appointed to be said for a person under sentence of death, was offored:

"O Father of mercies, and God of all comfort; We fly unto thee for succer in behalf of this thy servant, who is now under the sentence of condemnation. The day of his calamity is at hand, and he is accounted as one of those who go down into the pit. Blessed Lord, reu, ember thy mercies; look upon his infirmities; hear the voice of his complaint; give him, we beseeth thee, patience in this his time of adversity, and support under the terrors which encompass him; set before his eyes the things he hath once in the body, which have justly provided thee to super; and foresmuch as his continuance appeared to be short ameng us, quicken him so much the more by thy grace and Hely Spirit, that he, before converted and reconciled unto thee, before thy judgments have cut him off from the earth, may at the horr of his death depart in peace, and be received into thise everlasting kingdom; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

THE HIGHLAND REGIMENT. - A Scotch regiment is in process of formation in this city. About 350 Scothmen have agreed to enroll their names as members. and have christened themselves the Highland Guard. This embryo regiment had its second drill on Tuesday night at the Mercer House. Thomas W. McLeay is the acting commandant, and be officiated Tuesday evening, dressed in the proposed uniform, which is certainly very striking. It consists of a low-crowned hat, with red poppon and plaid band, a black feather, and a plate with the Stare arms. The coat is scarlet, and is known as the shell jacket; it is trimmed with white, and the collar and cuffs are of dark blue. The kilt is a fac simile of that worn by the 42d regiment of Highlanders, and has the customary sporan moir and phillibeg. During the evening Capt. Mason announced to the regiment that he had called upon the military authorities of the State, and he had received every encouragement to believe that they would get a charter to form a regiment. The Governor elect had promised his influence, as had also Gen. Ewen and the Major-General of the First division, so that the Highland Guard might be considered as fairly under way. It was announced during the evening that at least 500 men would be enrolled during the first year. The following are the officers to far as chosen: Acting Commandant, Thomas W. McLeay; Captain, William Marson; Captain, Thomas Barclay; Captain, John McGuffog; Captain, John Mason; Captaie, Joseph Laing; Captain, William

THE LATE HOMICIDE AT A BROADWAY SALOON-CLOSE OF THE INQUEST-THE PERPETRATOR UN-KNOWN.-Coroner Hills on Wednesday concluded the inquisition in the case of Wm. S. Tompkins, the young man who was killed on last Saturday night at the lager-beer saloon and concert-room No. 497 Broadway. The evidence failed to show who the individual was that inflicted the fatal wound, and the Jury rendered a verdict of "Death by compression of the "brain from rupture of a blood vessel, caused by violence received on the 6th of November, 1858, at the hands of some person to the Jury unknown."

Ellen Thurston, one of the waiters of the establishment, was sworn and testified that she saw deceased, for the first time, last Saturday night at 111 o'clock. He was standing with his back to the bar, when some remark he made about the hair of one of the girls gave offence to one of the bystanders, who struck him in the neck with his fist. Deceased fell, and as he did so, he caught hold of of witness's dress, his hand fallit g upon her foct. While deceased was down, the man kicked him in the right side of the head, and also made other attempts to kick him, but was prevented by the others present. Deceased almost immediately after get up, but fell again to the floor almost in stantly. He was then removed. I do not know who his assailant was. I had seen him him there several times. After he had struck deceased he waited a moment or two and then went into the crowd. He remained in the place a short time and talked with Josephine Dunn, (another of the waiters,) after which Jesephine Dunn, the girl above referred to, was sworn, and testified to the facts as narrated by the last witness, but did not know the name of the person who assailed deceased: she had seen him once before strike a man at that salcon; all the men present seemed sober except deceased.

Some other corroborative evidence was taken, after which the case was given to the Jury.

The police say they are confident of their ability to ascertain who the assailant was, as they have a full description of him. The deceased was a native of this State, twenty-one years of age.

THE ALLEGED PERSURY CASE. - The examination in the case of Catharine Mulhearn, charged with perjury in making false statements before Justice Connolly during the recent examination of Robert Willis on a charge of murder, was continued before Judge Welsh of the City Hall Police Court yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Robert L. Willis testified that he knew Cath-Mr. Robert L. Willis testified that he knew Cath-arine Mulhearn; she lived as a servant with him at No. 581 Broadway; on the Sanday afternoon in ques-tion, he was out riding, and in the evening he was home; there were other persons in the house beside his family, and they left between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock rext morning; did not feel able to name pos-itively any of the persons who were there on that evening; there were no stangers to him or his house present that night; he retired between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock that morning; he was wholly anable to rathe the persons who left his house on that night; it by a visit from the serenaders.

Mossey, the previous occupant of the house No. 581 knew of them; Mr. Mossey lives now in Harlem, and infertued him during the recent examination before Justice Justice Connolly that he knew of the stains and could account for them; the stains of blood that were found on the fence and eistern came there from the ears of a dog that had been cut, and tied there to prevent his running over the house; the ears were cut by a man procured by the foreman of Mr. Horace Jones, keeper of a livery stable; did not know his name, and had not said that the stains on the basement wall and those on the cistern were occasioned by the rame means; there was posiwere occasioned by the same means; there was posi-tively no row or disturbance of any kind on the Sun-day right in question in his house, and he had no loud words at any time during that night.

The examination in the case was then adjourned to this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

THE SHINPLASTER-BANK AFFAIR. - Justice Kelly vesterday morning rendered his decision in the case of Mr. Underhill, charged with baving in his possession a quantity of bills purporting to be of the issue of the New-England Bank (no such banking institution being in existence) and held the accused to answer in the sum of $1,000 bail, which amount was promptly, given. The magistrate has several affidavits before him in regard to this shipplaster institution, and will, in the course of a few days, in all probability, issue warrants for the arrest of several brokers doing business in Broadway, Wall street and vicinity. Mr. Underhill will be used as a witness against the parties in Wall street and other localities, and a strenuous effort will be made to bring to justice those who have during the past week been trafficking so largely in this bogus stuff.

A typographical error occurred in the report of this case yesterday. The clerk in the hotel should have said he did not think that Mr. Underhill intended he should pay the order from the package containing the shipplasters which had been deposited in the safe.

A LIVING MAN'S HEART OPEN TO INSPECTION .-Some three years ago our physicians witnessed the process of digestion through an orifice left by a gunshot wound in the abdomen of Alexis. St. Martin. But a greater curiosity was yesterday exhibited to the students of the University Medical College, at the hour of Prof. Mott's clinique. It was a case of deficiency of the sternum (breastbone), which enables the several movements of the heart to be seen. It has excited intense interest for several years past throughout the cities of Europe and Britain. The subject of the defect is a very intelligent gentleman, M. Groux, a native of Hamburg, 23 years of age, somewhat under the average hight and rather pale, though he appears to be in health. He was introduced by Dr. Mott, who thought that the substance which occupied the place of the sternum raight be cartilage. M. Groux then showed the peculiar deformity of his cheet and gave an excellent lecture on the heart's action, demonstrating his remarks with colored plates, an artificial heart, and his own body. The collar-hones are not connected, ineither are the ribs to their opposites,) but there is a groove where the sternum should be; the skin is natural. In its natural state this groove is about an inch several years past throughout the cities of Eu where the sternum should be; the skin is natural. In its natural state this groove is about an inch and a half wide, but it can be distended to three and a half wide, but it can be distended to three inches. On looking at the groove, a polantile swelling is discernible opposite the third and fourth ribs; if respiration be suspended, it rapidly rises to an enormous extent, and remains full and tense until the breathing is restored, when it soon subsides. This is the heart. Between the clayieles there is another pulsatile swelling, easily feit, which is the norta, the great artery from the heart. The dilation and constraints of the contract of the contra great artery from the heart. The dilation and con-traction of the lung is also seen. In coughing, the right lung suddenly protruces from the chest through he groove, and ascerds a considerable distance above he right clavicle into the neck. The technical details of these wonderful disclosures will interest professional men, and to general readers of physiclogy the sight would be extremely interest-ing. It would be well if it could be exhibited in all of physiclogy the sight would be exhibited in all public schools.

Mr. Groux remembers being taken by his family dector to a medical society in Hamburg, when about two years old, but be did not know for what; nor did the full importance of his case occur to him till he was over 20 years of age. In 1849, while on a visit to London, he was attacked with cholera, and then it was that his defect was made known to the profession. He was shown to several distinguished medical men as a great cariosity, and was advised to travel through Europe for the benefit of the profession. Not long after, while attending to his business, which was very confining, he was attacked with hamoptisis (spitting of blood). He was attacked with hamoptisis (spitting of blood). tending to his business, which was very comming, he was attacked with harmoptisis (spitting of blood). He then concluded to abandon his occupation and follow the suggestion often made to him, viz., to travel and show houself to the medical men of the countries of Europe, Britain, and now of America. He has an album of two volumes, which are nearly filled with the autographs of the chief members of all the important medical societies and universities of Europe, from St. Peersburg to Madrid, and from Vienna to Galway, tersifying to their great interest in the case. The natures of professors and celebrities who have amined him number over two thousand.

At the close of his lecture yesterday Dr. Mott pro-posed a collection in Mr. Grour's behalf, though his regular fee had been paid by the faculty. Scarcely had he said the word when the silver began to fly into had he said the word when it is extended and the the areas from the seats of the vast amphithenter. Nearly all the 300 students were present, and the shower of quariers greatly jeoparded the lecturer (Dr. Mott) and his attendants, together with Dr. Alex. B. Mott, who seemed to be a target in the innocent who seemed to be a target in the innocent

We were favored this morning with a call from M. Groux, the congenital fissure of whose sternum created such interest at the Medical College to-day. His case a most remarkable one, and is a rare opportunity for tudying, ex visu, the actions of the heart, great vesuels, and lunge.

It solves several doubtful questions in regard to the action of the heart, and gives quite as vivid an idea of the great strength and vigorous movements of the "little life-machine," as if the ribs were cut away and it exposed; more vivid indeed, for in the latter case there would be no action such as is now plainly visible under all conditions of the system, beneath only a thin will of flexible.

Somebody's desire that there might be a window in the breast of all men, or Charles Lamb's equivalent, a pane in the stomach, seems nearly realized in Mr. Croux's case.

Share Politicat Practice.—A curious political maneuvre has just come to light. It seems there are two leading factions in the Republican party of New-York city. One of them is said to be controlled by John A. Kennedy, Superintendent of the Castie Garden Emigrant Depot, and the other has Beni. F. Manierre and Justice Welsh, among its leaders. A number of those opposed to Mr. Kennedy met a short time before the election, with some prominent Democrats, and managed that they would, on election day, run caudidates for the Supervisorship, although the fact was not made generally public, and no previous announcement of such an election was made. Prior to doing this, it is reported, they consulted the Hon. James T. Brady, the Hon. David Dudley Field, and other distinguished lawyers, who gave decided opinions that the decided teader the term of the Supervisor. Office SHARP POLITICAL PRACTICE.-A curious political brany, the Hon. David Dudie; Field, and other dis-tinguished lawyers, who gave decided opinions that the law extending the term of the Supervisors Office was unconstitutional, as the Legislature had no power thus to extend the term of the office prescribed by the previous act to be annual. The votes cast in accordprevious act to be annual. The votes cast in accordance with this opinion at the late election have elected on the Democratic side Wm. M. Tweed, Waiter Roach, Wm. C. Conner, Michael S. Keeler, Bartholomew Haley, and James Mulligan. The Republicans have selected new men, having thrown overboard Mr. Kennedy and elected Thomas Little, James H. Welsh, Berl, F. Manierre, Pierre C. Van Wyer, Win. Allen, and Edear Katchen. These gentlemen will, by writ and Edgar Ketcham. These gentlemen will, by writ of que warrante, claim their seats of the present in-cumbents.

COMMERCIAL MATTERS. WEDNESDAY, Nov. 10-7. M Opening transactions at the Stock Exchange indiated an improving market; but, after passing through the list to the Western shares, the tone suddenly charged, and the whole market became heavy and donnward in its tendency. A glance at the registered sales shows considerable irregularity in the dealings, and to what extent people for the time discriminate between Railways at the East, which make fair returns for a dull period, and those at the West, which show so unfavorably as compared with last year. It is but a superficial view of the question, however, to conclude that, because earnings at the present time are small, and the business of some months to come is likely to be unsatisfactory, the stocks are to be valued accerdingly. The period through which these roads are now passing is probably the most trying one they will encounter for years, and to make calcu-lations of value based upon such results as we are now obtaining, is to ignore those comprehensive and intelligent views, which recognize in the immesse resources of the West the recuperative powers which are destined to bring again the great thoroughfares of that section of the country to a con-dition of prosperity. At the First Board there was a very steady market for New-York Central at a slight advance over quotations of yesterday, until just at the close of the call, when it gave way slightly, and was finally done at 842. The officers of the Road state that the September settlements with Western Roads have not yet been all made, but that the earnings will vary but slightly from $20,000 decrease, as compared with September, 1857. The October carnings will be about the same as for October, 1857, and may exceed them $20,000 to $30,000. The freight business shows considerable improvement. Hudson River was firm under the more favorable returns for October, and went up to 33, with but moderate sales. Harlen advance i to 13, and was in good demand during the call. The business for October, as annexed, shows an increase in the gross carnings of about $2,500, as compared with last year. The perses, we understand, in the same menth were largely reduced. Reading had a steady market, wi hout activity or bnoyancy, and was firm in closing transactions at 51 w 51;. Galena suffered the most decided decline for the day of anything on the list, touching 751 on the call, and closing quite heavy. We hear of no new features in regard to the stock. Rock Island, which generally sympathizes closely with Ga-Ispa, gave way slightly, and was offered freely on sellers' options, but was altegether the strongest of the two stocks. The transactions were not large, however. Michigan Central declined to 55, but was tolerably steady at the price. The October earnings show a decrease of about $53,000, showing that the last end of the month was worse than the early portion. Pacific Mail advanced to 105. The annual meeting of this corporation was held to-day, and a dividend, it is now stated, will be declared within ten daysbut the per centage has not yet been determined. The business of the afternoon session was fair in extent, but generally at a small concession from morning prices, Harlem old and Preferred shares were about the only stocks on the list which seemed to maintain an improving terdency. The trade for State stocks, without much activity, has been at a slight advance in quotations, and there is a very steady investment demand for a large majority of the issues current in this market. Railway Bonds show no material change. La Crosse Land Grants advanced to 264 in the morn-

irg, and were in demand, and Fond du Lacs went up to 16, but were afterward | P cent lower. Illinois Centrals declined to 934 at the Second Board. The tope of the market at the close of the day was that of heaviness and inactivity. The bulls have evidently become dispirited by the hesitation on the part of outsiders to support a reaction, which seemed very natural to anticipate after the material decline of the last week or ten days. There have been, consequently, some desertions from the ranks of the operators for a rise, and the frateruity of boars are now probably an influential majority of the Board. The closing prices were for New-York Central 84 2814, Eri 16] 217, Harlem 13 2131, Hudson River 321 233 Reading 514 2514, Michigan Central 514 2544, Michigan Southern 231 2231, Preferred 531 2531, Panama 1191 a 120, Illinois Central 83 a 831, Galena 741 0 741 Rock Island 65 2651, Toledo 33 2334, Pacific Mai 104 | 2 105, Illinois Central Bonds 931 293 |, Missouri 6

Too Money market exhibits symptoms of increased case, and many of the Bank managers who joined in the recent attempt to advance the rate of interest have abandoned the hope of success. One of the most conservative expressed the opinion yesterday that there was nothing to look for in the coming six months but continued abundance. Call loans are easy at 4 25 $\tilde{\psi}$ cent, with occasional transactions at a lower figure, and paper is 426 P cent is the discount houses, and in free demand at these rates, very little of what may be classed as gilt-edged being passed above 5 V cent. The Suffolk Bank has declined the proposition of a number of the Boston Backs to extend the time of the redemption of foreign money from Nov. 30 for the space of three mouths. The Boston Transcript says: space of three months. The Boston Transcript says:

In the mean time, however the managers have signified their willingness to take from the Boston Banks country morey at the rate of 25 cents 4 $1,000. Some of the leading Banks of this city have already made a permanent arrangement with the Suffolk Bank upon this basis. A few Banks, re doubt, will do their own asserting of foreign monsy, as the cheapest method. But the probability is that the great majority of the Boston Banking institutions will either accept the terms of the Suffolk or transfer their business to the new Bank of Mutual Redemption.

been postponed until Friday next.

The London correspondent of The Commercial says:

The money market is without alteration. A revived demand of gold for the continent, chiefly to purchase silver to send to Chica, has prevented any further augmentation of the stock in the Back, although there have been arrivals from Russia and elsewhere. At the same time, some remittances to Constantinople on account of the recent Turkish loan are likely to be made in sovereigns, and the payment of the home dividends now going on also creates a demand for coin. A little check, therefore, has been given to the recent animation, and there will probably be no great reaswal of confidence for a month or two. People are also perplexed and rendered timid by the Bank refusing to reduce its rate—a policy in direct contradiction to the course it has pursued during the past ten years, which has been to follow the market. Still there is no real increase in the terms for accommodation. Loans on course it has persued during the past ten years, which has been to follow the market. Still there is no real increase in the terms for accommodation. Loaus on Government securities can be obtained at the rate of 1 ½ cent ½ ann., and large transactions daily take place in the discount market at 2 ½ cent.

"The Board of Trade returns for the past month show a falling off in our exportations as compared with September, 1857, equal to $1,800,000. This may be considered moderate, as at that period the shipments of mercantile firms supported by the West ra Bank of Scotland, and other concerns of that description, had not been slopped. The principal activity during the past month is shown in the consignments of sotton goods to India and China.

"Consols at the last date were quoted 33. They have since touched 38, and have returned this evening to the former price.

"An active paper war was going on between the promoters of the new Galway A nerices Steam Company and the opposing interests at Liverpool. It is asserted, however, that the Galway people have succeeded in getting subscriptions for their required capital of $2,540,000."
